

Associative Economics Dialogues “Paths for teaching Associative Economics in Waldorf Schools”

Meeting of the Economics Conference of the Goetheanum.
For elementary and high school teachers interested in the topic.

Friday, August 5th - from 16:00 to 20:00

“No child should reach the age of 16 without knowing accounting.” - Rudolf Steiner.

OBJECTIVE

Understanding the economy correctly is the key to self-fulfilment and acting in the world with purpose. Associative economics, based on the economics course given by Rudolf Steiner between July 24th and August 6th, 1922, offers this perspective necessary to the present day.

The school period is a unique time in everyone’s life. Each theme or subject presented will have an impact on one’s future. So, we ask:

How to teach associative economics to children and young people?

As colleagues (see below) of the Economics Conference, we have been working on this topic for some years now.

If you, like us, are interested and willing to participate in building this path for our schools in Brazil, participate in this meeting. We will join forces, knowledge and creativity.

It will be a meeting offered to a small number of participants to work in a research mode, co-creating.

SCHEDULE

16:00	Camila Pannain and Lucia Sígolo	Associative Economics and the Economics Conference
16:45	Camila Pannain and Lucia Sígolo	Panoramic demonstration of some of the main themes related to associative economics: Capital/money - Circulation - Double-entry bookkeeping
18:00	BREAK
18:15	Plenary	How does it resonate? What is being done? Ways to prepare the child and young people (what to incorporate and when).
19:00	Plenary	Proposals for primary and secondary education
20:00	TERMINATION

Coordination, Organization and Support

Camila Pannain and Lúcia Sígolo: Members of the Economics Conference of the Goetheanum – Part of the Social Sciences Section of the General Anthroposophical Society, based at the Goetheanum, Dornach, Switzerland. <https://economics.goetheanum.org/home>

Costs, Registration and Information

Proposed value: shared costs, estimate: BRL 40.00 (coffee-break included)

More information: camibrasil@hotmail.com; luciasigolo@gmail.com

Registrations: <https://m5.gs/b2lCck>

Venue

Rudolf Steiner Cultural Center – Rua da Fraternidade, 156 Santo Amaro – São Paulo-SP